

It's a GREAT DAY to be an ASTRONAUT

It was Aaron's first day in school, and while eating lunch in the cafeteria, he saw a girl named Amelia drop her tray, and "Ka-blash!" Her lunch spilled everywhere. Rather than get upset, Amelia pronounced, "Well, this is a great day to be an astronaut," and proceeded to pick up the mess. A boy named Adam stepped in to help. She smiled, and said "Thanks!"

Later, while playing at recess, Aaron saw Amelia trip and skin her knee.

He could tell it hurt, but was surprised by Amelia's reaction.

After brushing a tear from her cheek, she said, "This is a great day to be an astronaut." Then a girl named Amy came up to her and said, "You should get a bandaid on that. Let's go to the nurse's office."

Amelia smiled and said,
"Thanks!"

On the bus ride home, Amelia's backpack unzipped, and everything fell out on the floor. Again she said, "This a great day to be an astronaut!" This time Aaron stepped in to help pick things up, then he asked her, "Amelia, I've seen three bad things happen to you today, and each time you say 'This is a great day to be an astronaut.' Why do you say that?"

Amelia replied, "Here at this school, we are all astronauts. We have astronaut friends, and we all care about each other, and help each other. It's the astronaut way.

So no matter what happens, I know I have friends who care, and will help me. That makes every day a great day to be an astronaut!" After all of her things were gathered up, Amelia smiled and said, "Thanks for your help! Isn't it a great day to be an astronaut!"
